

“There are two reasons I like working with Globe Office Solutions. Attention to detail is one of them”

Mike Batty - Head of Group Facilities - Olympus Keymed

The Head of Group Facilities at Olympus Keymed, Mike Batty, looks after an office complex that stretches over several acres. 1100 people work in these buildings, situated on the outskirts of Southend-on-Sea. All those people demand a lot of care, so Mike expects to receive what he calls ‘the blue chip treatment’ from his suppliers. He feels he gets exactly that from Globe Office Solutions.

Mike goes on, ‘if there’s one phrase that rules the roost here at Olympus Keymed, it’s ‘the devil’s in the detail’. Globe Office Solutions understands that. They just get it. They see that we take as much pride in the appearance of our offices as we do in our products. They match our attention to detail with an attention to detail of their own, which is one of the reasons I like working with them.

‘They’ve been supplying us with office furniture for five years now, and if they promise to deliver, they do. Like us, they do everything they can to make things look right. And they’re good at communicating.

‘There’s a second reason I like working with Globe. And that’s the people who work there. I often think that working with us and our mad obsession with detail must be a nightmare. If it is, nobody at Globe ever shows it. They’re a joy to do business with.’
